

Some Circulation!

YOU wouldn't believe it—no one does until he learns by actual experience—that the circulation of hot air produced by the "little furnace" in the Estate Hot Storm is as powerful as you find in the ordinary furnace.

But just try to hold your hand over the discharge ports of an Estate Hot Storm when it's fired up full, and you'll be quickly convinced.

Estate Hot Storm

—the heating stove with a "little furnace" in it works like a furnace because it's built like one. Air drawn into the "little furnace" through pipes on both sides of the stove, is heated to a very high temperature, and then discharged from the top of the stove, either into the room in which the stove sets, or into a pipe to conduct the heat to the upper floor.

This distinctive feature of the Estate Hot Storm's construction should be reason enough for you to give this stove the preference, but there are other reasons almost equally important. The Estate Patented Jointless Ash Box insures perfect fire control throughout the life of the stove; the Estate Tubular Hot Blast Attachment gets out of the fuel every atom of heat that's in it; the Estate Double Strength Single Fire Pot, Estate Patented Anti-Buckling Ring, etc., all contribute to make the Estate Hot Storm the strongest, longest-lived, most powerful and economical heater that has ever been built.

Make up your mind to "Own an Estate" this season and make it an Estate Hot Storm—the stove with a "little furnace" in it. We'll be glad to explain the construction to you at any time.

ECCLIES-CHEESMAN

One of the most beautiful autumn weddings was solemnized last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Eccles, 2555 Jefferson avenue, when their daughter Celia Eccles became the bride of Walter Scott Cheesman.

Promptly at 8 o'clock, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march the bridal party entered the drawing room and at one end where an altar of pink and white roses with showers of lilies of the valley forming a canopy overhead, Judge Henry H. Rolapp pronounced the impressive wedding ceremony. The bride was beautifully attired in a gown of white French satin embroidered with gold and silver and with trimmings of real lace and pearls. The long bridal veil was held by a circlet of orange blossoms and pearls and the only article of jewelry worn was a handsome diamond brooch, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Pearl Eccles Regan, sister of the bride, who was matron of honor, wore a beautiful gown of deep rose pink charmeuse with an overskirt of beaded chiffon trimmings. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Beatrice Brewer, Miss Irma Eccles, Miss Lillian Wright and Miss Marion Eccles were prettily gowned in costumes of pink charmeuse in various shades with gold lace trimmings. They wore pink mullin bonnets tied with lavender streamers and carried baskets of pink roses. The little flower girls, Lucile Kline, Louise Eccles and Celia Eccles, nieces of the bride, wore in dainty white dresses and wore wreaths of pink roses.

Morton R. Cheesman of Salt Lake, brother of the groom attended him and John McCurdy and Darwin Richardson of Salt Lake and Roland Eccles and Peter D. Kline of this city acted as ushers.

To each of the bride's attendants the groom presented beautiful cameo brooches and to the best man and ushers the gifts were gold pocket knives.

Converted into a garden of roses and chrysanthemums, intermingled with palms, ferns and numerous autumn flowers the beautiful Eccles home on Jefferson avenue was a scene long to be remembered by the four hundred guests present. Over 150 relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom were bidden to the wedding following which a reception was held until 11 o'clock when over four hundred guests extended their congratulations.

In the drawing room where the ceremony was performed large vases of pink roses and white chrysanthemums were effectively arranged while in the library the color scheme was carried out in yellow and white. Masses of large yellow and white chrysanthemums adorned the room. Red and white roses with maiden hair fern festooned and arranged in vases lent fragrance as well as beauty to the spacious hallway.

In the dining room pink was the color scheme. A large mound of pink roses intermingled with ferns and smilax formed the central decoration of the table and streamers of pink tulle extended from the chandelier to the corners of the table, where the ends were caught with large bouquets of roses. Hidden by a screen of palms an orchestra rendered popular and classical airs throughout the evening. In the basement of the home a Japanese garden, where refreshments were served from small Japanese tables, was decorated with Oregon grape, ferns and hemlock with strings of vari-colored lanterns and lights.

Assisting in entertaining were Mesdames P. D. Kline, A. P. Hibbs, Nettie Eccles, Veda Eccles Davis and Leroy R. Eccles. In the receiving line with the bride party were Mr. and Mrs. William Eccles, Mrs. M. A. Cheesman of Salt Lake, mother of the groom. Mrs. Eccles wore a gown of purple brocade velvet with chiffon and gold lace trimmings and Mrs. Cheesman was attired in black satin with beautiful trimmings of real lace.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Cheesman left for an extended wedding trip to southern California. The happy couple will make their home in this city upon their return. Guests from Salt Lake, Provo and points outside of Utah attended the elaborate reception.

TRYING TO RESTORE LOST MEMORY OF WALRAVEN

Psychologists are interested in the case of O. D. Walraven, the man suffering from loss of memory at the Dee hospital, following a blow received on the head when he fell or was pushed from a Bamberger train nearly a month ago. Professor Henry Peterson, principal of the Ogden High School, and Drs. A. Smith and Joseph Peterson, have learned that the man has been a trained electrician. They found that Walraven remembers no incident preceding his injury, but that he can recognize and describe electrical appliances.

When first taken to the hospital, Walraven told questioners that he was an electrician, but as he was semi-delirious it was not known, but that his statement was the result of delirium. The investigations of those interested have proved that the man has worked as an electrician.

Principal Peterson took Walraven to the transforming station of the Ogden Rapid Transit company yesterday where he was able to name the apparatus and describe its construction.

Walraven has recovered from his wounds and is now anxious to go to work. He hopes that it will not be long before his memory will return.

THE WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

WALL STREET.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Experimental operations by the bear faction indicated that the early demand for stocks had been satisfied. Pressure was then applied until the leaders receded a point or more. When shorts had covered some of their contracts there was no further support for the market, which fell back further than it had advanced.

The Mexican situation once more was the main restricting influence, but monetary conditions also tended to check speculation. Reports that opposition to the New Haven $67,000,000 issue of debentures had been withdrawn, was the cause of the strength of the road's securities.

Bonds were steady. The whole market was shaken after mid-day by the heavy liquidation of steel. Blocks of thousands of shares were unloaded and it fell to 54 3/4, with much of the selling coming from out-of-town sources. Disaffection with the trade situation both here and abroad prompted the selling.

PARIS STYLES IN GOWNS AND CLOAKS

We introduce today a notable collection of afternoon and reception gowns, evening costumes, dancing frocks and opera cloaks.

All these entrancingly beautiful things for the dress "occasion" reflect the creation of the Paris makers, either being copies or adaptations, many of them made under our own instruction by leading New York producers.

In our estimation the styles of this season are more beautiful and distinguished; yes, and more practical and in keeping with the demands of the times and the requirements of the modern woman than ever before.

Richness of fabric, perfectness of colorings, variety and beauty of trimmings, and the introduction of some exquisite and new effects, taken from the Oriental, the Directoire and the Balkan, characterize the exposition today, to which we most cordially invite you.

GOVERNOR TENER, LEAGUE PRESIDENT

Cincinnati, Nov. 6.—President August Herrmann of the Cincinnati baseball club, in discussing the pos-

"I was informed a week ago that such a movement was on. I understand that President Baker of the Philadelphia Nationals and President Dreyfus, of the Pittsburgh club, have had the matter in charge. I cannot see, however, how Governor Tener could combine the two positions. One or the other would keep him busy all the time. However, Tener is a national figure and I believe the presidency of the league is practically settled if he wants the position. I was with him during every game of the recent world's series and he did not intimate in any way that he wanted the position."
